

Music Around the World

Name / chosen name: _____

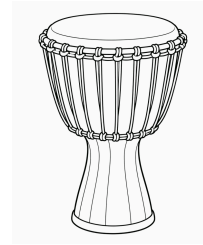

These are examples of musical connections, not rules about what people play. Instrument types and traditions vary.

Guitar

Associated with Spain and played in many places.

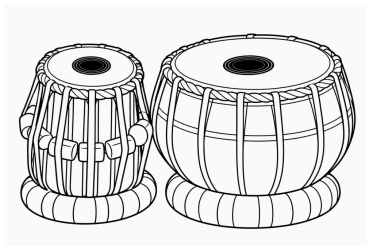

Pluck or strum strings.

Djembe

A goblet-shaped drum associated with West Africa.

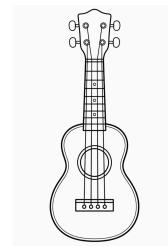

Strike the head with hands.

Tabla

A pair of drums associated with North Indian music.

Strike the heads with fingers and hands.

Ukulele

Associated with Hawai'i, with Portuguese instrument connections.

Pluck or strum four strings.

Music Around the World

Name / chosen name: _____

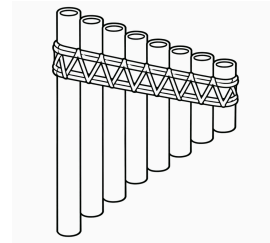

These are examples of musical connections, not rules about what people play. Instrument types and traditions vary.

Erhu

A two-string bowed instrument associated with China.

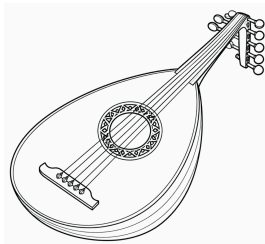

Move a bow across strings.

Panpipes

Sets of pipes occur in many places, including the Andes.

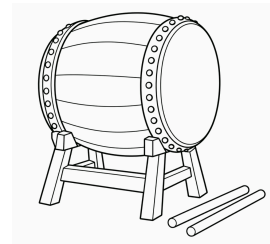

Blow across open tubes.

Oud

A short-necked lute played across the Middle East and beyond.

Pluck strings with a pick.

Taiko

Japanese drums of varied sizes; this picture shows one type.

Strike with wooden beaters.